

Gain Wisdom

Do you realize there is an untapped market for gathering information in this world?? Who do you think would be the best person to ask the question, "How do I find what I'm meant to do?" than someone who has already lived it! Do you know someone who is in their later years in life and has lived fully?

Today, you have the opportunity not only to celebrate the life of someone you know and possibly love, but also to gain wisdom at the same time.

Interview someone who has lived a big portion of their life already and gain some wisdom from them on how they lived and what brought them the most joy. Did they ever find their Limitless Spark?!

- Who will you interview?

Set a date in the next 2 days to talk with them. Meet in person or over the phone, whichever will allow you to do this within 2 days. Why two days? Finding your Limitless Spark is important, isn't it?! Why wait? Do it ASAP while you are focusing on this task. Aren't you curious?

- When is your interview?
